

15 and 30 minute round trip walks are marked with blue stars

Pod

This hand-carved sculpture by Richard Deutsch was created in Michaelangelo's former studio in Italy. Inspired by the re-birth of nature, this solid granite piece is the marriage of art and environment. It invites interaction and creative play.

Community Art

Designed by Hagerstown artist Judah Claxton, this temporary mural pays homage to the railroad and cultural heritage of the Hub City. It came to life as Fall Fest 2016 attendees gave it color.

30 min

Faces of Hagerstown

Decorative Screens

Stroll down the trail and see the decorative screens that evoke memories of the rail yard switches that once ran through this area. Artist Vicki Scuri gives this functional screen amazing artistic appeal.

Mural of Unusual Size

Internationally recognized contemporary public artist and award-winning painter HENSE transforms this former industrial building into a creative work of art that combines techniques of street art and abstract painting.

Faces of Hagerstown

These black-and-white photos capture the truth of Hagerstown through the people who were there. The images are from

15 min

Whimsical Garden

Explore this interactive play area that features a garden you thought could only exist in your imagination! Artist Alison Sigethy has designed this installation reminiscent of the likes of Dr. Seuss. Plus, take a splash in the water trickling over the rock formation or just relax as you listen to the sound.

Herald-Mail Sculpture

Adam Curtis is a large scale abstract metal sculptor who has been selected to design a centerpiece for the Herald-Mail Plaza. The area will offer a place for gathering under decorative shade structures that cast unique shadows on the Trail.

SUMMIT AVENUE

W. ANTIETAM ENTRY PLAZA

ANTIETAM STREET

BALTIMORE STREET

PARKING

A&E District Parking Deck / 25 Renaissance Way
 City Parking Lot / 36 W. Antietam Street
 Columbia Bank Parking Lot / 44 W. Antietam Street

- A Just Lookin' Gallery / 40 Summit Avenue
- B Washington County Arts Council / 34 S. Potomac Street
- C Engine Room Art Space / 36 N. Potomac Street

THANK YOU TO OUR PARTNERS:

We thank those businesses and organizations that have provided easements, donated land, and offered financial support to help the Trail become a reality.

Herald-Mail Media / Ellsworth Electric / Hagerstown Housing Authority / Hagerstown Chiropractic & Massage Center